Subject: FW: Water Industry Commission consultation on the next price review

Dear Katherine

Thank you for informing us of the publication of the Water Industry Commission's final consultation document on the methodology for its next review of Scottish Water's charges. I have had a look at the document and can advise that this Council has no comments to make.

Kind Regards
Brenda Murray

Subject: Water Industry Commission consultation on the next price review

I am pleased to announce the publication of the Water Industry Commission's final consultation document on the methodology for its next review of Scottish Water's charges. The document is available on our website at:

http://www.watercommission.co.uk/SRC_2010-2014/methodvol4.asp

This document is the last of four volumes of the methodology consultation. It explains our proposed methodology in relation to Scottish Water's capital expenditure during the period 2010-14. We would welcome your views on these important issues.

We have produced a series of information notes providing more detailed information on the key issues discussed, which are also available on our website.

Volumes 1,2 and 3 of the methodology consultation are also available on our website at:

http://www.watercommission.co.uk/SRC_2010-2014/conandpub.asp

The consultation period for all four volumes closes on 19 October 2007.

Kind regards,

Katherine Russell
